DEDICATION

We take great pride in dedicating this 1954-55 Bluejay to Mrs. Speake. We have been indeed fortunate to have you, Mrs. Speake, on the staff of George High School. You are noted throughout Iowa for your outstanding work.

You have proved your ability by the many grand plays and the success of your speech students.

We thank you, Mrs. Speake, for all the time and effort you have put forth for us.

Business Managers

We are proud to present to the students, without whom there would be no annual; to the faculty, without whose help there would be no annual; to the merchants, without whose sponsorship we could not have published this book; and to our parents, without whom there would be no school--this 1955 Bluejay, the result of our combined efforts. We hope that now and in the years to come it will give you many pleasant memories.

The Lord Bless You and Keep You

CLASS PROPHECY

As I look into the future and traverse the stairway to the stars some ten years hence, I see before me the cream of the Milky Way. Some of the thirty-eight senior stars have attained higher heights than others, some are brighter, while still others are more beautiful; but each shines radiantly in its own way.

The first star is a famous wrestler, Curly Curt Meyerhoff by name. He now has his own Used Car lot. You can't say he hasn't had "a lot" of experience.

There shine Harlan DeBoer and Douglas Bruns. They have really built themselves up in the world. They have just constructed a 103 story building. Talk about reaching the heights!

Shirley Stubbe has paved the way in her waitress career. She has just become the head waitress "to" a Brown Derby in Hollywood.

Here are two of our stars--star basketball players from George High--Pat Meester, forward, and Nadine Kruse, guard. When Pat graduated from school she got a car and said, "I'm going to take this "Forward" to New York. Now she is editor of the New York Fashion Magazine. Nadine Kruse--Hey, where is she? Ah, there she is, guarding the gold at Fort Kruse and it's all hers. She got it singing on the NAK Television Show.

Ah, I see Dorothy Reiter is still cheering. Cheering because she finally landed a fish with her line. Nice fishing, Dorothy.

Lloyd Ossenfort has met and married his Harriet. Now on television, Ozzie and Harriet have competition. Every Friday night Ozzie and Harriet Ossenfort and Jr. and Slicky may be seen.

At present Dorothy Bruns is at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York testing a new waffle. She's one of the best cooks in America (a rival of Betty Crocker). I guess that medal she received in high school inspired her.

Clarence Jurrens owns a cookie factory in Manchester, New York. There he is making "Kooks" Cookies.

Louise Hansmann is making her living selling kisses but not the kind you think. No, I see she is the proud owner of Louise's Yummy Candy Kiss Factory.

Harlan Stubbe has just opened his own hatchery. He has been saving eggs for a number of years now.

One who has worked her way up in the field of art is Joann Sprock. She now has gone through Greenwich Village and is drawing portraits of the President and other important "dog-catcher" officials. Next time you're in the "dog house" call on her--you might see her working.

I just received a news flash from France. Jean Groenewold has received her first vote of confidence from the parliament as woman premier of France.

And now to Hollywood where we find Joe Klinkenborg as successor to Marlon Brando. As it was written in a Hollywood gossip column, he is noted as, not the "Lone Wolf" and not the "Lone Ranger" but,----as Tonto might say, "Ugh, him got much silver and many squaws."

Of all the things Stanley Rypkema has been called, he has been named outstanding baseball player of 1962.

Klaas Voss and wife are using their geometric knowledge in building a new home in California, one of those that hangs on a mountain.

Another star is the former Betty Arends starring in her role of farm wife. During the day she looks after all the little Hansmanns and at night she teaches 4-H classes.

Kenneth Hinsch, after trudging in the Sierra Madre for five years, has just discovered uranium. He left on his prospecting trip the night he received his diploma.

Wayne Krahling became a famous driver in the racing world. Didn't think he would make it because his name is often pronounced "Krawling." People want a driver who makes his car do much more than crawl.

Nina Blau has cut her appetite. She is sword swallower for Ringling Brothers Circus.

Rudy Meyer owns a ranch in Alaska. He raises red-nosed reindeer, each endowed with the name, "Rudolph."

In a farmhouse south of town we see Alma Duin and Johnnie. It seems the family pocketbook is subplanted more by accordian playing than by raising chickens.

Henry Duin has been doin' just plenty. He is proud father of twins, "Nothin' Duin" and "Plenty Duin." He also sings at the Metropolitan Opera House. All that yelling across the study hall finally paid dividends.

Texas claims a dude ranch owner, Jackie Hilbrands. Jackie was a stewardess aboard an airplane that crashed in the rich oil fields of Texas. She later married the doctor who took care of her in the hospital after the crash. (By the way, he owns ten oil wells.) Guess who's the foreman of this classy dude ranch. None other than "The Dude," Den "Tex" Hilbrands. He made his fame in the role in his senior class days.

Remember that "rock" Shirley Van Westen got for her finger in her senior year? Well, she's still collecting rocks. She and Stanley have a rock garden at their new home.

Kenneth Harpham, the jet ace of the air force, is recruiting passengers for his tenth trip to the moon. The price has been cut to the astonishingly low price of $100,000 per person for a two week cruise in outer space.

A new highway market has sprouted up. The sign says: "See Gene Thorn for the thorniest thorn bushes in town. A place where you'll get stuck if you don't watch out."

David Morkrid is taking life easy in California. Dave owns the Morkrid Do-It-Yourself Dry Cleaning Company.

There's a beautiful big Cadillac going down New York's 5th Avenue. In it are Helen Schneiderman and Carol Kruger, dress designers for Jean Groenewold of Paris. Carol Hollander, by the way, is an outstanding model working for the Carol-Helen Shoppe.

Joan Schoonhoven's work in the F.B.I. offices is really exciting. Her favorite quote is, "I'm a lady detective looking for a man."

Rose Duin?---Why, she's been named Miss Red Top of '65. Yes, that lovely red hair has finally won fame for her.

The whole world is enjoying Glenda Van Briesen's beauty shop. Just try and tell me you can't make "headway" in the world by starting on the top.

Carol Van Iperen has just realized her life-long ambition, to be a wife. There's no particular subject in her searches, all she wants is a plain ordinary man.

The president of the senior class now works with the underworld. Byron Schrick says, "You know, I have a grave undertaking but actually business is dead." He's Edna's mortician.

And so it is with the class of '55------still shining so brightly--but oh, so differently than it did ten short years ago.

CLASS WILL

Be it known that we, the honorable members of the class of '55, on this the 24th day of May, being of sound mind and body, declare this to be our last will and testament:

Dennis Hilbrands wills his "way with the women" to Gary Abels and Ronald Winkel.

Wayne Krahling gives his extra inches to George Freerksen and Kenneth Van Briesen.

Dorothy Bruns wills her quiet ways to Barbara DeGraaf and Gwen Krahling.

Rose Duin wills her red hair and blushes to Mary Bechler.

Doug Bruns wills his beautiful blue eyes to Joan Eilders and his calm way to Beverly DeJong.

Harlan DeBoer leaves his studiousness to Arnold Harms and Norman Smith.

Kenneth Harpham wills his curly locks to Charles Harms and his flying license to Larry Smid. Sorry, Larry, the license is good for airplanes only.

Jeanne Groenewold leaves her list of car license numbers to Thelma Van Briesen and her variety of slacks to Genevieve Hansmann.

Louise Hansmann gives her jolliness to Floydelle Sudenga.

Klaas Voss wills his ability to go steady to Bob Locker and Jim Lucas.

Byron Schrick wants to keep everything he has. Sorry, girls!!

Pat Meester wills her list of "out of town" boys to Vera Hilbrands.

Carol Hollander gives her brown eyes and a few boy friends to Grace Meyer.

Joe Klinkenborg wills his unresistable charm to Darwin Willemssen.

David Morkrid gives his physique to Larry Feldman and his black, curly hair to Roger Jordan.

Shirley Van Westen takes Yvonne Jurrens's brother.

Dorothy Reiter donates her musical ability to Harlyn Beek and Edwin Schneiderman.

Curtis Meyerhoff presents his "ultra-modern" cars to Gene Blum and Jerry Smith.

Harlan Stubbe wills his ability to get along with the teachers to Roger Stubbe.

Shirley Stubbe gives her "boy cut" hair style to Betty Bos.

Carol Van Iperen bestows her giggle to Marilyn Straatmeyer and Helen Athens.

Clarence Jurrens wills his motto, "Women are so unnecessary," to Orville Willemssen.

Rudy Meyer contributes his reserved manner to Verdell Groen.

Joan Schoonhoven bequeaths her long tresses to Mavis Goldhorn.

Glenda Van Briesen wills her "come hither" eyes to Lorena Meinerts and her "Levis" to Mickey Kramer.

Lloyd Ossenfort leaves his ability to be heard to Dwayne Reibling.

Stan Rypkema gives his position on the baseball team to Roger Harms.

Nadine Kruse leaves her place on the basketball team to Judy Veenker and her pleasing personality to Janie Nagel.

Kenneth Hinsch wills his cousin to Lois Tjepkes.

Jackie Hilbrands leaves her height to Eileen Rypkema and Marcy Kix. She also leaves a few dates, just a few, girls.

JoAnn Sprock leaves her art editorship to Phyllis Walkup.

Alma Duin leaves her night life to Marvin Grave.

Gene Thorn wills his ability to catch up on sleep in study halls to Roger Sprock and David Geerdes.

Helen Schneiderman gives her extra-curricular activities to Connie Speake.

Carol Kruger bequeaths her shorthand ability to Martha Geick.

Nina Blau leaves her ability to remain unattached to Ruth Dirksen.

Betty Arends wills her male companions during the noon hour to Marla Hinsch and Colleen Willemssen.

Henry Duin leaves everything he has to those Juniors who feel they have been cheated by the preceeding will. Divide among you!

Signed, sealed, and declared by the Honorable Class of 1955 to be their last will and testament.

I'm A Fool

After swabbing horses all summer as a stablehand, George has finally been put, by mother and sister, into decent clothes again. Encouraged by a "dude" he meets, he begins to give himself airs, as he sees a young gentleman with his beautiful sister and girl friend. They start talking and George takes the name of a prominent horse owner. The girl and George fall in love, but she must leave soon. However, she'll write; she knows the address of his estate. George is crushed. Her letters will all be sent back. "There ain't no such guy. Gosh amighty. I hope I get cancer and die."

No Television Tonight

Mrs. Howard disconnects the T.V. set. Now she can have an evening of quiet, and get acquainted with her family again. While Delsey and Bud argue with Dad about what program to turn on she sits back and waits. The set won't work. Everyone sits down to an evening of reading, etc. Then Mrs. Howard discovers that at eight o'clock there is a program she wants to see. The way they handled the situation made the comedy a delight.

On the night of January 7, 1955, the new George High School auditorium was overflowing with alumni and guests for the 1955 Homecoming event.

The crowd watched two tense games with Rock Rapids as George's rival. After a hard fight Rock Rapids won both games by small margins.

Between games the queen's attendants were ushered into the gym by their escorts. Following came the queen, Jackie Hilbrands, who was later crowned by the duke, Joe Klinkenborg.

Marty Veenker, alumni of 1953, acted as Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

We had been looking forward to it for ages. The day finally arrived, Saturday, April torium had been transformed into a mystic garden of moonbeams and starlight, as they prepared to journey up the "Stairway to the Stars."
